

Do you ever just want to call a doctor (and even get an Rx, if needed) when you or a family member is sick?

Are you frustrated with impersonal medical advice when searching for answers on Google or WebMD?

Would you like a Personal Advisor to help understand medical bills or pricing and navigate "the system"?

Could you use 15-50%* savings on dental needs like exams, whitening, braces and more? How about 10-60% savings on vision needs like glasses, contacts, LASIK, and more? What about 10-85% savings (46% on average) on prescriptions?

Are you prepared if identity theft or legal issues strike?

The advertisement features a central illustration of a family: a man in a green shirt, a woman in an orange shirt, a young boy in a green shirt, a young girl in a red dress, and a dog. To the left of the family is the freshbenies logo. To the right is a membership card for Bonnie Benie. Below the illustration, the text reads: "Take the headache out of healthcare (and more)..." followed by "all in one easy-to-use card!" in a red, handwritten-style font.
